

Travaglini Group. Travel without borders

Thanks to the intuition of Luciano Travaglini, the company began its journey in 1976. The distribution of motorcycles was only the first step towards a progressive development in the field of goods transport, nationally and globally, focusing on the constant expansion of the fleet of vehicles and playing a key role as a reference partner in 4PL, 3PL and 2PL logistics. The company has also made inroads in the field of packaging, with the design and production of industrial packaging, and in the automotive sector, operating specifically in vehicle outfitting, thanks to its metal carpentry department and investments in Research & Development. Today Travaglini Group is a company able to listen to and satisfy the customer's requests and study and design the best solutions according to the needs of the interlocutor, from the development of prototypes and production to the management and delivery of the finished product.
